

Documents reveal who officials believe shot the Lopez couple

LOCAL, 3A

CORPUS CHRISTI

Caller Times

FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 2018 CALLER.COM

PART OF THE USA TODAY NETWORK

Local superheroes share passions

Top: Elena Flores and Gerald Flores pose for a photo during the Tejano Justice League's Selena-themed dinner on Thursday. Above: Mayra Zamora poses at the dinner. Below: Zamora and Sandra Gonzalez work on a mural panel on June 30. PHOTOS BY CASEY JACKSON AND RACHEL DENNY CLOW/CALLER-TIMES

Top: Tony Maldonado, from left, Svani Quintanilla and Omar Arellano pose for a photo during the Tejano Justice League's Selena-themed dinner on Thursday. Middle: Oneida Cantu stands outside the dinner. She started Proyecto Bruja, a line of crystal and stone pendants, rings, necklaces, and earrings, about two years ago. Above: Vianney Rodriguez poses for a photo during the dinner. Rodriguez is the founder of the cooking blog SweetLifeBake.com. PHOTOS BY CASEY JACKSON/CALLER-TIMES

Tejano Justice League aims to create change

Natalia E Contreras Corpus Christi Caller Times USA TODAY NETWORK - TEXAS

Not too long ago and in a galaxy not too far away, a group of nine young Corpus Christi artists and entrepreneurs came together and combined forces. Their talents are all different.

Vianney Rodriguez brings her original food recipes. Elena and Gerald Flores follow with original designs and accessories.

Oneida Cantu brings the jewels; Omar Arellano, Tony Maldonado and Svani Quintanilla bring the food and the music, and Sandra Gonzalez and Mayra Zamora bring the art work.

See SUPERHEROES, Page 4A

Travelers on flight could get millions

Southwest likely to face lawsuits

John Bacon USA TODAY

Despite the praise Southwest Airlines is drawing from passengers for the valiant efforts of its crew during the deadly ordeal of Flight 1380, the airline probably still faces tens of millions of dollars in legal damages from those on board, experts say.

The Dallas-bound Boeing 737 was not far out of New York when an engine blew apart, firing shrapnel along the fuselage and smashing a window. A heroic emergency landing in Philadelphia followed, but one passenger was killed, seven wounded and the rest rattled by the episode.

"The airline will be responsible for the maintenance of the aircraft," says Jonathan Johnson, an Atlanta lawyer who has handled aviation cases for 25 years. "Clearly there was a problem with the engine that was not rectified."

Johnson says lawyers for the passengers will most likely target Southwest Airlines as opposed to other parties involved such as Boeing or the engine's builder, a joint-venture led by General Electric. By law, he said, Southwest has the "highest duty of care" toward the passengers they fly.

Southwest's insurance carriers likely will pay the bulk of any bill that comes due, he said.

David Katzman, a pilot and aviation lawyer whose firm includes an office in Philadelphia, said the engine inspec-

See SOUTHWEST, Page 7A

What you need to know about Barbara Bush's funeral

John C Moritz Corpus Christi Caller Times USA TODAY NETWORK - TEXAS

COLLEGE STATION – Former first Lady Barbara Bush will be laid to rest in a private ceremony in a bucolic setting a few hundred yards northwest of the 20-year-old presidential library that bears the name of her husband.

The graveside service will take place after a motorcade takes family members, friends and guests from Houston's Memorial Park to the setting in College Station, about a 90-mile ride.

Here are some things to know about the burial and related matters:

When President George H.W. Bush chose Texas A&M University for the site of his library and museum, a parcel of ground was also set aside as the final resting place for him and Barbara Bush.

The couple's daughter, Robin, who died from leukemia in 1953 at age 3, was reburied at the site.

The cemetery's entrance, bordered by a wrought-iron fence supported by white stone columns, is accessible by a concrete path that winds around a

See BARBARA BUSH, Page 6A

USA TODAY

With Trump's tacit approval, marijuana industry on cusp of explosive growth. 5A

Astros-Mariners

Houston wins third straight game with commanding victory over Seattle. 1B

Weather

High 76° Low 66° Cloudy. Forecast, 9A

Volume 136 | Issue 90 Home delivery pricing inside Subscribe 844-900-7096 ©2018

