Sparse turnout greets Black Friday

Mall parking lots are nowhere near full, and few stores had lines outside early in the morning as the pandemic restrictions and worries are evident

By Joseph DeSica, Maggie Angel and Laura Daull

...on Friday morning, shoppers' anxiety spilled over into the streets of Emeryville, where thousands of people lined up outside stores in the early morning hours. According to Bibas, the appeals court in a unanimous decision, "the fairness of the election is the lifeblood of our democracy."