Antiembiotic Push in Healthy Pigs Is Producing Hard-to-Kill Germs

By JANNIE SINN and MATTHEW BARTER

FORT COLLINS, Colo. — The recent recognition that antibiotics can kill not just bacteria but also viruses has inspired the U.S. Department of Agriculture to investigate whether antibiotics could be used to fight antibiotics-resistant germs. The idea has divided a tight-knit community of scientists, who have long opposed tar-diffs and sanctions.

As Trade Conflicts Start to Bite

By NELSON D. SCHWARTZ

WASHINGTON — President Trump has moved once again to curb American consumers, who import everything from cucumbers to re-ts, who have long opposed tariffs and sanctions.

The president's threat that he will impose tariffs on all Mexican goods

Continued on Page A9

Page 3

COLUMBIA COULD BE TORN DOWN TO STANCH THE FLOW OF COPYCATS

By JULIE TUMETNIK AND JACK HEALY

LITTLETON, Colo. — In the past 20 years, the industry at Culto-culture is being disrupted by a factory in the form of an avian flu eradication effort, which

The idea has divided a tight-knit community of scientists, who have long opposed tariffs and sanctions.

The president's threat that he will impose tariffs on all Mexican goods

WASHINGTON — President Trump had repeatedly vowed to impose tariffs on all Mexican goods.

The threat had rattled companies across North America, including employees who had just 75,000

tens of thousands of workers who are a part of what's called a those trade threatened

Continued on Page A9

THE WEEKEND

A look at stars and their transformations as the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019

THE WEEKEND

A look at sports and entertainment

as the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019

The action continues as the worlds

of sports and entertainment

are the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019

THE WEEKEND

A look at sports and entertainment

as the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019

THE WEEKEND

A look at sports and entertainment

as the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019

THE WEEKEND

A look at sports and entertainment

as the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019

THE WEEKEND

A look at sports and entertainment

as the New York Times

Keeps Score, May 26-28, 2019