Katrina screams ashore

Shrieking hurricane slams, submerges Gulf Coast

New Orleans, Miss. swamped by storm

With 145-mph winds, Katrina leaves at least 55 dead in its wake, even as it doesn't turn out to be apocalyptic storm forecasters had feared. Page 5.

Damage greases way for higher gas prices

As hurricane disrupts Gulf Coast petroleum output and rattles energy markets, oil and natural gas prices soar, and stage set for pricier gasoline. Pages 4 and 6.
