TAMPA — Although Attorney General Pam Bondi is officially opposed to a Tampa same-sex couple's bid to divorce, the lawyers who work for her tried to avoid appearing before the 2nd District Court of Appeal to argue the state's position Monday.

State Solicitor General Allen Winsor filed a motion asking that the court postpone arguments on the case until after the U.S. Supreme Court decides cases being argued today in Washington over constitutional challenges to four other states' bans on same sex marriages. Failing a postponement, Winsor requested that his office be excused from having to appear "to avoid expending unnecessary resources."

BALTIMORE — Rioters plunged part of Baltimore into chaos Monday, torching a pharmacy, setting police cars ablaze and throwing bricks at officers hours after thousands mourned the man who died from a severe spinal injury he suffered in police custody.

The governor declared a state of emergency and called in the National Guard to restore order. A weeklong, daily curfew was imposed beginning today from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m., the mayor said. At least 15 officers were hurt, some with broken bones, and two were hospitalized, police said. About

Because the Russians and jihadi groups such as Islamic State have been so successful in using the Internet and other means to tell their stories and deliver their messages around the world, the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee is recommending more than doubling the amount of money given to U.S. Special Operations Command for countering those narratives.

In his $604.2 billion defense spending recommendation for the 2016 fiscal year beginning in October, U.S. Rep. Mac Thornberry, R-Texas, on Monday announced he is asking for Socom to receive $54.7 million for a Global Inform and Influence Activities program. That's $30 million more than the White House, seeking $10.6 billion total for Socom, had requested.
