

SUNNY

$1

TUESDAY, APRIL 28, 2015

80° / 49° SEE A12

PLAYOFF HOCKEY

Steelheads' season ends with thud in Utah

SPORTS, A8

SUPREME COURT

JUSTICES SET TO HEAR GAY MARRIAGE CASES

NEWS, A6

SCHOOL SHOOTING

Washington state teacher tackles student with gun

NEWS, A5

NEPAL EARTHQUAKE

AID SLOWLY ARRIVES

The death toll is mounting in the Himalayas, as the reality sets in that too many people hit hard by last weekend's magnitude-7.8 quake are in remote areas cut off by the disaster, with nothing left to do but bury their dead and hope they can survive. Kathmandu is finally seeing help materialize, at least. NEWS, A6

► Boisean at Mount Everest base camp is unhurt • A6

MOTORCYCLE CRASH

BOISE POLICE: MAN DRUNK, SPEEDING

The owner of a dog hit and killed by motorcycle operator Mathew T. Bacon, who then crashed and died, still might be cited for having the dog off-leash. Bacon's blood alcohol level was 0.16, and he had drugs in his system. NEWS, A4

DOWNTOWN BOISE

ACHD eases back into bike lane discussions

It's still a contentious topic, and commissioners will take their time deciding what kind of routes there should be and where they should go.

KATHERINE JONES / kjones@idahostatesman.com

Cyclists follow bike lanes north on Capitol Boulevard on Saturday. The bike lanes in place today were the result of months of haggling last year. The Ada County Highway District is now considering more designated lanes for Downtown Boise.

BY SVEN BERG sberg@idahostatesman.com
© 2015 Idaho Statesman

Downtown Boise needs more and better bike lanes.

That's about the limit of consensus a group of 22 government, business and nonprofit representatives reached early this year. But it's progress.

Last year, by contrast, people argued for months over bicyclists' place in the city. Some said drivers should make room for cyclists. Others said cyclists shouldn't take space that cars can use.

See BIKE LANES, ????

SEE MORE ON IDEAS FOR BIKE LANES AND ACHD'S NEIGHBORHOOD BIKE AND WALK PLANS IdahoStatesman.com

VARSITY EXTRA

ROCKY MTN. RUNNER HITS ELITE LEVEL

Michael Slagowski's win in the 800 at a top-notch California meet stamped him as a runner to watch nationally, and the junior thinks he can get better. Our Rachel Roberts reports. SPORTS, A8

GUEST OPINION

On Denim Day, take stand against rape

In Boise and elsewhere, people are encouraged to wear jeans on Wednesday to show solidarity in the fight against sexual assault and declare that a culture of victim shaming must end. OPINIONS, A7

HELPING WORKS

WALKABOUT BOISE'S GOALS

Anna Webb writes about weekly tours that show off the city's historical sites and also help save them, through Preservation Idaho's work. EXPLORE, E1

SOLE SURVIVOR

DOG IS OK 6 DAYS AFTER OWNER'S ATV CRASH A4

STARBUCKS

Glitch shows how vital new registers are NEWS, A5

ON THE WEB

AG-GAG LAW A hearing at 3:30 p.m. today will involve animal rights groups' challenge to Idaho's law; they seek a summary judgment. IDAHOSTATESMAN.COM

NEWS & SPORTS Catching Up A2-3 | Local news A4 | Business A5-6 | Nation/World A5-6 | Sports A8-11 | Weather A12
EXPLORE Anna Webb E1 | Carolyn Hax E1 | Office coach E1 | Obituaries E4-5 | Classifieds E6-8 | Legal ads E8-10 | Comics E2-3 | Horoscope E3 | Puzzles E3 | TV E3

INSIDE TODAY

IDAHO STATESMAN: A McClatchy Newspaper, 1200 N. Curtis Road, Boise, ID • P.O. Box 40, Boise, ID 83707 • (208) 377-6200 • © 2015 Idaho Statesman, Vol. 150, No. 277, 3 sections, 22 pages

0% FOR 72 MONTHS!
7 MODELS TO CHOOSE FROM!

ALTIMA MURANO leaf SENTRA
MAXIMA TITAN ARMADA

DENNIS DILLON NISSAN
8727 Fairview Ave - Boise
208-388-4400
DENNISDILLON.COM

Innovation that excites

*2014 Muranos only.

SPEC352752